

Experiment Instructions

Team and General Conduct

Each experiment requires four team members:

- Main instructor
- Backup instructor
- Two door keepers

Notes:

- All researchers should keep their phones and smart devices silent.
- All researchers should refrain from distracting the participant.
- All researchers should remain calm, friendly, and professional.

Main Instructor

BEFORE THE EXPERIMENT Ask the participant to fill the consent form.

- Ask the participant to silence their phone and remove their smartwatch.
- Explain the experiment and what the team will be doing.
- Ask the participant to complete the consent form.
- Teach the participant how to wear the ECG device.
- Ask the participant to wear the headphones.

DURING THE EXPERIMENT

- Tell the participant not to move too much during the experiment.
- Tell the participant to focus on the task and not to speak while listening to the music.
They may speak after the music has ended and while completing the questionnaire, but they may not talk during the rest period or the trial period.
- Start the ECG code.
- Start the app.
- Ask whether the participant is ready.
- Explain the app to the participant.
- Answer their questions.
- Remain relaxed and composed.
- Make sure the participant is comfortable.
- After each trial, ask whether the participant is okay and ready for the next trial (music).
- Make sure all participants are treated the same.

WHEN FINISHED

- Stop the ECG recording.
- Make sure the file is saved.
- Ask the participant to remove the ECG device.
- Thank the participant for participating.
- Reset the setup for the next participant.

Backup Instructor

NOTES

- Take notes on everything that happened.
 - Anything unexpected, including the time, duration, and description.
 - Anything special that is worth noting.
 - If the ECG disconnects, note the time and what happened.

SUPPORT TASKS

- Help the main instructor if needed.
- Clean the ECG device after use.
- Clean the headphones.
- Check the ECG device battery.
- Prepare the participant ID and record the time of the experiment.

Door Keepers

- Make sure nobody enters the room.
- Make sure nobody makes noise.
- If someone approaches the door, go to them in advance so that, when you are telling them not to disturb the experiment, the conversation does not take place near the door.
- Do not enter the room unless there is no participant inside.
